Describe the difference between C# and .NET Framework.

- C#  (C Sharp) is modern multi-paradigm, object-oriented programming language developed by Microsoft as part of .NET Framework platform.

- .NET Framework is software framework developed by Microsoft which offers large library of classess (Framework Class Library),  Integrated Development Environment (Common Language Runtime) and provides language interoperability which allows each language to use code written in other languages. .